

KIDWELL'S COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF

Beech Drop, or Cancer Root,
(OROBANCHE VIRGINICA.)
For the rapid cure of Cancer, Ulcerated Sore Throat, White Swelling, Bronchitis, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, and all Diseases arising from an Impure state of the Blood.

History of the Beech Drop, or Cancer Root.

THE Beech Drop, or Cancer Root, is figured and described by the celebrated Dr. Barton, in his Medical Botany.

A knowledge of its extraordinary medical virtues was first learned from the North American Indians, by whom it was used for the treatment and cure of Cancer, Rheumatism, Scrofula, and Consumption.

Quick results in all chronic diseases are not to be expected, as all the fluids and secretions of the system are in a disordered and vitiated state; and the only way of restoring the blood and secretions to a natural and healthy state is by the use of an alternative which changes it from an impure and diseased state to its normal and healthy condition.

It will, however, take more or less time to effect a cure where the taint of the constitution is deep and of long standing; but perseverance in its use, will secure the desired change, and the debilitated organs will be restored to their former vigor.

It is useful in all scaly skin diseases, Ulcerated Sore Throat, White Swelling, diseases of the bone, and all cases of an ulcerous character. It is also particularly useful in Chronic and Nervous Complaints, occurring in debilitated and cachectic constitutions; in Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Chronic Enlargement of the Liver and Spleen, Dropsy, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, and all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood.

The estimate that is accorded this preparation by the medical profession, and indeed by all competent to judge of its merits, may be seen in the fact, that it is constantly prescribed by many of our most eminent physicians, and that it has been presented to their students as worthy of their especial attention.

CURE OF CANCER!

Georgetown, D. C., Nov. 1, 1852.

Dear Sir: I am pleased to hear that you have consented to extend the usefulness of your valuable preparation of Beech Drop, by placing it before the public. Anxious that my fellow-men may be benefited by its powerful virtues, I have concluded to narrate as near as possible my own case, with the hope that out of the thousands of unfortunate beings afflicted with a similar disease, some may be induced to use it. For the truthfulness of my statement I can with pride and satisfaction refer to the citizens of Georgetown, the most of whom know me personally, and have a perfect knowledge of the wonderful cure effected by the Beech Drop, in my case. I was attacked in June, 1819, with an inflammation of my nose, which terminated in suppuration. I applied to several of our most prominent Physicians; one pronounced it an eating cancer, another scrofula, another syphilis. The disease was arrested for a while, but broke out again in May, 1820, with renewed violence. The internal surface of the integuments of the cheeks, together with the throat and palate, became ulcerated. The whole of the integuments of the nose were destroyed by ulceration, and a part of the upper lip fell off. The eyelid of my left eye was also destroyed by ulceration. The disease then extended to my shoulder blade, which also became a horrible ulcer.

At this time, given up by my physician, and avoided by everybody, I prayed for death. I could not make myself understood; my swallowing was very difficult, with no appetite whatever. The discharge from my ulcers was nearly one pint a day. A man who had been raised among the Indians in the Far West, in the capacity of interpreter, visited our town with several of the chiefs. Hearing of my great suffering, he called upon me, and urged that I should use the Extract of Beech Drop. He prepared it in the manner used by the Indians, and administered it to me. He directed me to continue the use of it two weeks, at which time the ulcers began to diminish, and lose their offensive odor. I used it two months, and my disease became perfectly cured. I gradually recovered my strength, and now, at the age of seventy, am able to undergo any hardship and suffer any privation that it seems to me I ever could.

Yours truly,
JAMES WEBSTER.

Mr. J. L. Kidwell.

The following statement respecting the subject or the above wonderful cure (signed by eminent citizens of Georgetown and Washington) is submitted to the public:

Georgetown, Nov. 28, 1852

We, the undersigned citizens of Georgetown and Washington, have known James Webster for the last thirty or thirty-five years, and it gives us great satisfaction to testify to his remarkable good character and moral and respectable deportment. He has so far secured the good opinion and approbation of every one that knows him, that he is looked upon as a remarkable man, exhibiting great intelligence and decision of character. We have a perfect recollection of his great suffering and affliction produced by a Scrofulous Cancer; and from his evidence at that time, are firmly convinced that his disease was cured by the use of the Extract of Beech Drop.

Dear Sir: I have carefully read the statement made to you by James Webster, in relation to his sore affliction and his happy riddance therefrom by the use of a preparation of the plant known as the BEECH DROP. I have been well acquainted with James Webster for the last thirty-five years, and it gives me more than ordinary satisfaction in having this opportunity to offer my testimony in the entire reliability of his character and integrity in all respects. The long time through which I have known him, his remarkably good character, and moral and respectable deportment, are such as not only to secure to him my approval and admiration, but has in my knowledge and opinion, secured to him the same approbation from every one who knows him. I have, in fact, (if I may be allowed the expression,) ever looked upon him as a very extraordinary man; and for his general good sense, prudence and intelligence, all his acquaintances can, and I am sure will, if requested, bear testimony.

I am sir, respectfully, your obedient servant,
LEWIS CARBERRY.

Scrofulous Ulcer Arrested!

Certificate of H. Kengla.

Georgetown, Nov. 29, 1852.

This is to certify that my colored boy was afflicted with scrofulous ulcers of the worst character, which extended entirely over his whole body. Medical aid could not arrest the disease until, under the direction of my physician, we commenced the use of the Extract of Beech Drop with him. In a very short time his general health improved and the ulcers all dried up, and he is now perfectly well.

Another Remarkable Cure!

Certificate of Thomas Bangs.

Georgetown, Nov. 29, 1852.

Dear Sir: I was afflicted, in 1825, '29 and '30, with a Scrofulous condition of my system, in which my physician thought my lungs were materially involved. I was restricted to the simplest diet; in fact, my stomach would not digest food sufficient to give me strength. Upon consultation with another eminent medical man, my case was pronounced deep seated and incurable. My own physician ceased visiting me, and my death was fully expected in a short time. James Webster called on me and persuaded me to use the Extract of Beech Drop. In a few days my appetite improved, and all the unpleasant symptoms about my stomach passed off. My general health was so improved by the use of it, in 3 or 4 weeks, that my weight increased from 135 to 175 pounds in twelve months. You can scarcely enter a house where they had not used it, and all acknowledge its great virtues. My family is never without it, and I attribute my good health entirely to its use. I will cheerfully give further information to any one concerning this extraordinary medicine, if they will call on me in person.

THOMAS BANGS, High St.

Mr. J. L. Kidwell.

Georgetown, D. C., Sept. 2, 1852.

Mr. Kidwell: Believing it to be the duty of those who have been benefited by the Extract of Beech Drop to make it public, that others may enjoy its health-restoring powers. I make the following statement and certify that my daughter, Virginia Newton, for many years was afflicted with a which gradually extended over her whole body. The character of the disease was so violent that we despaired of saving her life, and dreaded the loss of her feet. She had scabs over her entire head; and after using various remedies, she was at length cured by the use of the Extract of Beech Drop, and a great quantity of Syrup of Sarsaparilla, some one directed James Webster to me. He was confident of the success of the Extract of Beech Drop, and I used it. In three weeks her sores were all healed; and her head, so horrible to the sight, was soon dried up. She is married now, and blessed with a healthy family; and has not had the least return of her disease since.

SCROFULOUS SORE EYE,

Yours, etc.,
S. NEWTON, Second st.

Another Similar Case!

Certificate of Mrs. Mary Haubach.

Georgetown, D. C., Sept. 2, 1852.

This is to certify that my daughter, Mary Haubach, was afflicted with scrofulous sore eyes from the age of one year until she was eight years old. Her left eye was inflamed to such a degree, that the physician remarked that it would be a miracle if she did not lose it. After exerting every means in our power to subdue the inflammation, the good effects of Beech Drop in rheumatism and other diseases, induced me to use it. The effect produced was wonderful. In a week or ten days, the inflammation all subsided; the child's general health improved, and she now exhibits the picture of good health.

Chronic Rheumatism Cured!

Georgetown, Jan. 31, 1853.

Dear Sir: It is with a sense of gratitude, and a desire that others suffering from disease may be induced to use the Extract of Beech Drop, that I consent to give the following statement for publicity. Until last month I was a sufferer from Chronic Rheumatism, from the effects of which my health was so completely undermined and broken up, that I lost 25 or 30 pounds of my usual weight. I was confined to my bed, and was so tormented by the most approved patent medicines, I used a number of bottles of Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and exhausted the list of Linctments, without any effect. My joints became more enlarged, and the pains in my limbs so excruciating, that they had to be rubbed two or three times a night. The muscles of my legs were so contracted that I presented the appearance of a man of sixty-five. I was in this condition for three months, more through curiosity than a belief in the good effects. I commenced the use of your Beech Drop, and in ten or twelve days the swelling about my joints had subsided; and now, after the use of three bottles, I am able to resume my business, and can walk with the same ease and comfort that I formerly did.

Yours truly,
ISAAC BARRETT,
Second street, Georgetown.

Dear Sir: My daughter was afflicted with a severe inflammation of the legs, arms, and hips—the remains, as the Doctor said, of the scarlet fever. We could not subdue the inflammation, and it commenced suppuration. The discharge was immense; and the ulcers so increased, until her body was one ulcer. The Doctor recommended your Beech Drop, which produced such a rapid change in a few days, that it excited the astonishment of every one. She has used only one bottle, and is now well.

Yours, &c.,
EDWARD ROOLES,
First street, Georgetown.

Prince William Co., Va., Jan. 19, 1853.

Dear Sir: Hearing that you have prepared a concentrated Extract of Beech Drop for the cure of scrofula, skin diseases, rheumatism, &c., I have taken the liberty of addressing you, thinking it may afford you some satisfaction to know of the effects of Beech, that have come under my observation. My parents had a large family of children, several of whom were afflicted with scrofulous ulcers, and skin diseases of a very obstinate character. The best medical aid was employed for years without effecting a cure. The reputation of the Beech Drop was made known to my parents by a gentleman from the West. He procured it, and after using it two or three weeks all vestiges of the horrible disease had left the family. Hoping that others may be benefited by its wonderful properties, I am, yours, &c.,

M. F. LINSLEY.

Cure of Inflammation of the Palate by the use of the Beech Drop.

Certificate of Mrs. E. Mankins.

Georgetown, Nov. 28, 1852.

This is to certify that I was afflicted with severe inflammation of my palate produced, as my physician said, by cold; it increased in violence, and at last suppurred to such an extent, that whenever I would eat, the blood would pour out of my mouth. I suffered dreadfully with it more than 12 months, notwithstanding everything was done by my physician to arrest it. I spent more than $70 for the most approved remedies, and all of no avail. The comp. syr. sarsap., cor. sublimate, nitrate silver, were used in quantities. James Webster sent me the preparation of Beech Drop, and directed how it was to be used. In a few days my ulcers ceased to suppurate, and in a short time were entirely healed.

MRS. E. MANKINS, Fayette st.

The following certificate is given from the very best authority—John R. Jones, late Assistant Clerk in the House of Representatives. His recovery is considered extraordinary. Most of the members of both Houses of Congress visited him at the St. Charles Hotel, and expressed their astonishment at the wonders effected by the Comp. Fluid Ex. of Beech Drop:

Washington, D. C., April 29, 1853.

For the benefit of the public, and with none other than a desire to do good, I cheerfully state that I was afflicted with a cough and bronchial affection, from July, 1852, to March, 1853, and during that time was almost constantly confined to my room, laboring under great debility and severe cough. I had medical skill of the highest order, through whose treatment, and under the guidance of a higher than mortal Power, my life was prolonged till March, 1853, when I commenced the use of Dr. Kidwell's Beech Drop, or Extract of Cancer Root. Since that period I have taken about six bottles of the medicine, and it gives me pleasure to state that it has effected an entire cure, with the exception of weakness, occasioned by long confinement to my room. I would advise all persons similarly afflicted to try it. I consider it an invaluable medicine. The humbugs usually palmed upon the public in the shape of certificates favorable to the virtues of medicines, almost deter me from giving mine; but a sense of justice, and humanity alone, prompt me to make the above statement.

JOHN R. JONES,
Late Ass't Clerk Ho. of Reps., Washington.
Now Chief of the Land Office, Vincennes, Indiana.

Celebrated Remedy for Gout.

A safe and effectual cure for gout, rheumatism, lumbago, stone, gravel, swelling and weakness of the joints. All that is required is, that the afflicted give it a trial, and they will soon be convinced of its great medical properties, of its efficacy in the treatment of the various kinds of diseases arising from the sluggishness of the liver, and of its great virtue and merits over other articles.

Internal Cure for Rheumatism.

This Extract as an internal remedy in rheumatism, chronic or acute, has seldom failed to eradicate it from the constitution. I have certificates too numerous to publish, of those who have been cured of rheumatism by this Extract, after having used colicium and Hyd. potass. in vain.

Chronic disease of the Liver.

Inflammation of the stomach and bowels, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, total loss of appetite, dizziness in the head, inward soreness, extreme debility, and prostration of the nervous system, heartburn, languor, melancholy, pain in the side, back, or shoulders, jaundice, and liver complaints, are easily cured.

Bronchitis.

Bronchitis, difficulty of breathing, harsh cough, a slimy expectoration, with all other symptoms caused by an affection of the air-tubes, leading from the throat to the lungs, are relieved by the use of this admirable remedy.

I have sold over 3,000 bottles from January to May 1, and having kept notes of its effects and the names of those who have used it, I have the most gratifying evidence of its beneficial effects, beyond my expectations—in fact, so great is the demand for it, that it is with great difficulty I can procure sufficient of the Beech Drop. The preparation is manufactured with an improved apparatus, so as to preserve it from fermenting, and extract perfectly the virtues of the root.

DOSE—For an adult one teaspoonful three times a day, in a small quantity of water. When a desired and active effect is to be produced, a dessert spoonful may be taken three times a day.

Another Scientific Wonder!
GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!
Dr. J. S. HOUGHTON'S

THE TRUE
DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR, GASTRIC JUICE.

Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.
"DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of the word Pepsin. It is the chief element, or great digesting principle of the Gastric Juice—the solvent of the food, the purifying, preserving, and stimulating agent of the stomach and intestines. It is extracted from the digestive stomach of the ox, thus forming a true digestive fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own remedy for an unhealthy stomach. No art of man can equal its curative power. It contains no alcohol, hatter, acids, or nauseous drugs. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without the most acute distress. Beware of cheap imitations. Pepsin is not a drug.
Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water, will digest or dissolve five pounds of roast beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Scientific Evidence!
The Scientific evidence upon which this remedy is based is in the highest degree curious and remarkable. Call on the agent and get a descriptive circular, gratis, giving a large amount of scientific evidence from Liebig's Animal Chemistry, Dr. Combe's Physiology of Digestion, Dr. Pereira on Food and Diet, Dr. John W. Draper of New York University, Prof. Dunglison's Physiology, P. of Stillman, of Yale College, Dr. Carpenter's Physiology, &c., together with reports of cures from all parts of the United States.

Pepsin in Fluid and Powder.
Dr. Houghton's Pepsin is prepared in Powder and in Fluid Form—and in Prescription vials for the use of Physicians. This powder will be sent by mail, free of postage, for one dollar sent to Dr. Houghton, Philadelphia.
OBSERVE THIS!—Every bottle of the genuine Pepsin bears the written signature of J. S. Houghton, M. D., sole proprietor, Philadelphia, Pa. Copy-right and Trade Mark secured. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicines. Price, ONE DOLLAR, per bottle.
